By Land — By Sea — By Air

Volume II of The Scarritt Clan in America is dedicated to the members of the clan who lost their lives in War II. Frank E. Nye, who had already been in the navy for a year, was on the "Arizona" at Pearl Harbor on 7 December 1941 (Page 106). Edwin Scarritt Parsons was fatally injured while a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force in May 1942 (Page 136). Robert Pierce Moore lost his life as a member of Task Force Mars in Burma in 1945 (Page 133). Donald Schubert failed to return from a B-29 raid on Tokyo (Page 150). Warner G. Hornaday, who was at Pearl Harbor 7 December 1941, lost his life as a pilot in the Pacific (Page 93) and Norman W. Plumb was lost on a mine sweeper (Page 161). Percy A. White was killed in Italy (Page 175). The Honor Roll of veterans of Wars I and II is given on Page 177. Capt. P. M. Shaw, USNR, (Page 121) is a survivor of the Pearl Harbor attack.

PREFACE

This is Volume II of The Scarritt Clan in America. Volume I was published in 1938, after ten years of research. Even now many of the records are incomplete although much new material has been collected.

The name directory on page 69 of the original book is still good for that publication, but people have moved around so much that the geographical index is obsolete. In this issue a complete index for both volumes is included. All those whom we know to have served in the armed forces are listed on the Honor Roll starting on Page 177. Their record is given under their name.

Copies of Volume I, now in most of the larger libraries and many historical societies, may still be purchased for $3.00 during 1948 from the undersigned at 400 South Cherry Street, Falls Church, Va. Each member of the family, including small children, should have a copy of both volumes. The value of these publications will increase with the years. Data in Volume I is not repeated in this Volume, except as necessary to bring the material up-to-date. Volume II is $2.00.

Particular credit should be given to Mrs. James V. Conway, Miss Rose Mather, James H. Scarritt and Mrs. Richard R. Carey for their help. Librarians and officials of historical societies and newspapers who have rendered valuable assistance are too numerous for listing here but without their help this book would not be nearly as complete and interesting as it is now. Miss Emily Flora Scarritt of Orange, California, furnished many documents and letters that aided greatly in the preparation of this Volume and enabled the editor to clear up many questions.

Explanation of the Clan and Code

In arranging this genealogical record, I have followed a plan which I believe is simple, yet complete and all inclusive. As explained below, one can easily trace his own branch, or any other, and also determine his relationship to other people if he so desires.

The first known man is taken as the starting point, and in this particular history, is identified by the letters "XS". All members of the family listed in this history, of course, descend from this Scarritt pioneer and can trace their own branch of the family back to the man who first settled in the New World in the 17th Century.

Each member of the family has been given a number. Thus, the oldest child of Richard (S) is S.1. and her oldest child is S.1.1. To trace the lineage of any given member of the family one works backwards. For instance, S.1.2.2.5. in front of a name means that that person is the fifth child of S.1.2.2., who in turn is the second child of S.1.2., who in turn is the second child of S.1. In some cases the children are not in exact order of age, but we have refrained from making changes in Volume II, to avoid confusing the reader.

By this plan each branch of the family is in a given section, and the individuals, in most cases, are placed as by right of primogeniture.

Copies of this book may be purchased from

The Scarritt Clan in America

SCARRITTS WERE EARLY SETTLERS

Richard Scarritt, according to "Bristol and America," a record of the first settlers of the Colonies of North America, 1654-1685, v.2*, page 206, was a passenger on the ship Thomas & Mary, destination Nevis, in the Carribean, 1677 or later.

In 1695 Richard is listed as a new inhabitant of New London, Ct., (It is believed that his son Richard was born about 1698 and grandson Thomas about 1703.)

In the commissioner's report of the settlement before 1705, Richard Scarritt, was named among the settlers in the newly opened Indian fields, between New London and Norwich. (Caulkins History of New London.)

In 1716 Richard Scarritt's death is reported on 5 March. In 1721 the diary of Joshua Hempstead further reports the death of goodwife Scarriott, "froze to death last night in the snow near home, Dec. 6." There is no evidence that she was Richard's wife, although it is probable, but "goodwife" indicates a lower social scale than that occupied by Richard.

In 1718/19 the record shows that Richard and Hannah Scarritt purchased land in Branford, Ct., now North Branford.

In 1723, in New London, Thomas Scarritt married Joanna Chapman. (Bailey's Early Connecticut Marriages: Hempstead Children.)

In 1726, Anne, daughter of Richard and Hannah Scarritt, was born and she later married Nathaniel Hoadley. (Hoadley Genealogy by Trowbridge, 1894.)

In 1728 Thomas Scarritt married Alyce (Alys) Ward, or Hard, in Plymouth, Massachusetts. Since one Thomas married in 1723 in New London, and another in Plymouth, and the children were born to each family at about the same dates, it is thought that there were two separate families.

In 1732, Alse, wife of Thomas Scarritt, joined church in Plymouth, Massachusetts, and in 1733 her son Nathan, born 1729, and Johannah, born 1733, were baptized.

In 1741, in New London, Abagail Scarritt married Daniel Lester. (Lester Genealogy.) In 1743, a young woman, daughter of Thomas Scarritt, died in New London. (From Hempstead.)

In 1749/50 in New London, Thomas Scarritt married Joanna Goddard. (Bailey-Hempstead.) A Thomas Scarritt, Jr., thought to be this man, appears in the court records in 1760. In 1751/52 "Molly Scarritt came to spin." (Hempstead.) In 1754, in New London, Hannah Scarritt, daughter of Thomas, married James Whaley. (Hempstead.)

From the records of Staten Island, N. Y., Richard Scarritt, Jr., 1749-1830, married Elizabeth Winters 1754-1814. This could be the son of Richard born about 1732? who died in 1802? or a descendant of S.2 or S.3.

In 1752, in Plymouth, Margaret was born a daughter of Alse and Thomas Scarritt.

In 1752, in Plymouth, Johannah Scarritt, born 1733, married Joseph Totman. Their children were: Joshua, 1753; Betty 1756; Elkannah, 1758. (Source of Plymouth records: Davis Ancient landmarks of Plymouth; church records; Bailey's "Early Connecticut Marriages" and Totman genealogy.)

In 1775, the will of Richard Scarritt, Liverpool, silk weaver, was recorded.

In 1784, a note of Susannah's marriage (Z.5) is the first time the family name appears in the Staten Island records.

*V.2 covers 1663-1679, page 206 last third of the period or about 1673.

In 1788, Richard, Jr., joined the church. This was the second appearance of the name in Staten Island records. Following that Richard, Sr., and Mary (Heger) Scarritt are sponsors for numerous christenings.

In 1796 Richard, Sr., makes his last appearance as sponsor, and he is listed as "old Mr. Scarritt." (Clute in "Annals of Staten Island" and Bayles "History of Richmond County" both have Richard, Jr., and Richard, Sr., hopelessly mixed up, but both repeat the tradition that this Richard was a Frenchman by birth, of Hugenot parentage, and had lived in New England before coming to Staten Island.)

In 1800, will of John Scarritt, Liverpool silk weaver, was recorded.

SCARRITTS IN CONNECTICUT

X. Richard Scarritt 1646?-1716 died in New London, Ct., and his wife 1651?-1721, later. Richard came to America as a passenger on the ship Thomas & Mary in 1677, to the island of Nevis. There is no evidence that the Richard that went to Nevis was the one in New England in 1695, although at that time there was a brisk trade between the Carribean Islands and the New England ports. Richard is listed as a new inhabitant of New London in 1695, and as living in the newly opened Indian fields, between New London and Norwich in 1705. (According to Dr. R. P. Little, there is a Scarritt Island off the mainland of Scotland and it may be that Richard came from there.) The following undocumented list is thought to be his family. (For Staten Island branch see Page 171.)

S. Richard Scarritt 1698? who married Hannah.....
T. Thomas Scarritt 1680 (see page 170)
Y. Name not known (see page 170).

Page 6, Volume I, Continued.

S. Richard Scarritt sold a tract of land in 1738 to Daniel Barker, in what was then Branford, Ct., now North Branford, according to Mr. E. M. Rose, 434 Thompson Ave., East Haven, Ct., who had the deed.

THE HOADLEY BRANCH

S.1. Anne Scarritt, 1726- married Nathaniel Hoadley, 1721-1797, in Branford about 1745. Nathaniel was born in Branford as was his wife. They moved to Waterbury about 1765 and he died there. S.1.7.4.4. Dr. William Jefferson Hoadley, 1831-1921 was born in Chatham Co., N. C. He came to Hendricks Co., Ind., with his parents in 1837. He married Louise Shirley in Brownsburg, Ind., in 1861. Practicing in Hendricks and adjoining counties, he was one of the well-known men of Indiana at the time of his death. His wife died in 1898. Dr. Hoadley rounded out his common school education with two years at Asbury University. He read medicine in his father's office. He graduated from Ohio Medical College in 1866, although he had been practicing in Pittsboro for 9 years. Following his graduation he opened an office in Danville, Ind., and for many years had an extensive practice and was known as one of the most progressive men in his profession. He travelled in Europe prior to War I. He was the dean of his profession in the county. For more than 18 years after the Civil War he was pension examiner, and was known for his absolute fairness. He also served on the Danville school board. His last public activity was as county health officer. S.4.1.2. Rev. Isaac Scarritt 1783-1861 of DuPage, Will Co., Ill. 2 July 1850, to "Dear Brother" (Rev. Josiah A. Scarritt 1790-1865, Grantham, Sullivan Co., N.H.) "The long suspense of our correspondence is, on my part owing in a good degree, to not knowing your address. Yesterday the welcome arrival of yours of 13 June, not only supplied that defect, but afforded us the pleasure of hearing from you. I now fulfill your request 'to write soon' and first my family and circumstances. It was the earliest settlement of the country that I located myself here, 30 miles S.W. from the city of Chicago and 8 miles from the Illinois and Mohican canal. My claim was at first comparatively large, but is now reduced to the following dimensions: 60 acres of upland prairie, in cultivation; 20 acres of timberland; 50 acres of bottom prairie including the ridge containing the buildings, mostly in pasture and mowing. A house, not large but well finished off and painted. A small barn. A large spring (or indeed a number of them) of excellent never-failing water, so near to the dwelling as to not need a well, and a bearing orchard. Thus you have the most essential particulars about our habitation, which is on the whole comfortable. But there are some outstanding debts, which I fear the income of this season will not be sufficient to cancel. We have to keep a hired man or rent the farm, and the price of produce in the country is generally low, but we have no apprehensions of pecuniary distress. The health of the family is good as usual. Indeed we have been in general mercifully delivered from overwhelming doctor's bills for many years past. For myself I have as yet got to make the first application for one for my own sake, since I have lived in Illinois, a period of 32 years; not that I have never been sick in that time. Perry Porter (1822-1880) and Lovinia (1830-1896) both live at home. Perry (son) is married and has one child (Harriett 1848-1931) near two years old, and a great pet she is for a little lady, especially with grandma and grandpa; they call her Harriett Ellen. Lovinia is yet single (she later married F. D. C. Shaw). About three years ago I gave up all management and concern of the farm to Perry. Since that time I have retired from labor, except for mere exercise and am relieved of all care and responsibility in the management of affairs, as much as tho I were a mere boarder in the family. I shall give the results when I come to speak particularly of myself. The country is generally healthful thus far this season, a few rumors of cholera, in some places, but nothing alarming as yet. The spring has been dry, cold and backward; some instances of corn planted in May, has lain in the ground until the rain that has fallen within two or three weeks have started it up. It is now a fine growing time. The greatest stir among us has been produced by the California fever—hundreds, nay perhaps thousands have started from the state; some have died already, and what fortune awaits the rest, we know not, but predict it will be hard enough. Sister Lovinia Electy (1801-1863) is on a visit here with us. She arrived some weeks since by way of the Illinois river and canal. If I could add to my only surviving sister's my only surviving brother's company to the party, how happy I should be. She states that when she left Alton (Ill.) sister Letty (1793-1875), brother Nathan's widow, with some of her connexions were about to start eastward on a general visiting excursion, and perhaps before this reaches you, they will have made you a visit. (Letty and her son Nathan and his bride did visit Josiah, see excerpts from Nathan's diary Volume 1, page 43.) How think you, would the old "granite state" appear to me after this long absence? I can call to mind when I used to climb to the top of some eminence and look around on an apparently endless succession of hills sticking up their heads, as tho they were the only objects, worthy of notice, and indeed they were as far as the general view was concerned, but these granite hills produce a sound and hardy race of valuable beings, which you no doubt will be blessed in assisting to guide to these everlasting hills of light and glory on which are spread the boundless plains of the paradise of our God; to that both New Hampshire and Illinois may be both represented there without doing any violence to the structure, that nature has imposed on its physical borders and I will add that New Hampshire is represented in our national senate by a man whom I esteem second to no other in merit, integrity and the maintenance of the rights of man. * * *

"Having leisure and feeling deep interest in the struggle now going on respecting the subject of slavery, I read what is passing within my reach, and am in the habit of committing my own thoughts and reflections to writing. While touching on that subject it brings rather indistinctly to my remembrance a former communication from you, in which you mentioned that you were trying to do something for the cause of freedom. If my faint recollection be correct, my answer was rather cold and indifferent on that subject. The fact is that, I did not at that time consider the sins of our slave holding Caananites to the full: at least the cup of my forebearance was not drained to the dregs. I suppose that the sentiment of the revolution 'that slavery was an evil' still held and all that was wanting was what they considered a proper opportunity for its removal. Thus subsequent has been enough to try the patience of Job, and if the most forebearing now rise up and curse the whole system as that patriarch did the day of his birth, I believe that they will 'sin not nor charge God foolishly' in so doing. Five or six newspapers in the region of where I live have published different productions of my pen, mostly on this subject; and I am now preparing a regular argument on this subject, in answer to the speech of Mr. Toombs of Georgia, as reported in the 'National Era'. This may never be published, but it will be leaving my testimony to the world should they choose to avail themselves of its character of most bearing on that important document in relation to the slavery question. I regret that political parties of the 'North' each desiring to curry favor with the south in order to give the party ascendency are thereby prevented from acting with vigor and unanimity. My chosen fast was suggested by President Taylor's proclamation for a day of fasting throughout the United States and was published in the 'Western Citizen', I herewith send you a copy. All send their love to you and yours. /s/ Isaac Scarritt.

S.4.1.2.1. Abagail Scarritt House (Volume I). The minutes of the M. E. Church, annual conference 1848. "Rev. Isaac House was born in Brookfield, N. Y., 1806- died New Bedford, Mass., 1847. Licensed to preach in 1826. Admitted on trial Illinois conference, stationed in Mississippi circuit, 1827. Ordained 1828. Located 1829. For fifteen years he was in poor health, but served as his health permitted. In 1843 on a journey to Boston, he stopped over one Sunday in Providence, R. I., and was requested to supply the pulpit. He was appointed to the Chestnut St. Church, Providence, for the remainder of the conference year. In 1844 he was appointed to the 4th St. Church, New Bedford, and reappointed in 1845. He was super-annuated in 1846, because of failing health. He was survived by his wife and one daughter.

S.4.1.2.1.1. Floretta (Volume I) 1830-1844, born Springfield, Ill., died in New Bedford, Mass.

S.4.1.2.1.2. Mary House married ..... Chamberlain. Library of Congress card shows "Wayside Flowers" her book of poetry published in 1862 by Strickland & Co., Milwaukee. At that time she was listed as Mrs. Mary (House) Chamberlain, pen name ""Carrie Carlton." Therefore contrary to Volume I, she must have been the daughter of Rev. Isaac House, and must have been born after 1833 and prior to his death in 1847. Rev. Elihu Springer, uncle of Mary (House) Chamberlain, was presiding elder of the Milwaukee District just before his death in 1850 The following poem is reproduced through the courtesy of the Harvard College Library which has a copy of "Wayside Flowers" by Mary House Chamberlain.

THE CONDUCTOR'S STORY

I read on a torn bit of paper,
A story—wondrous—old—
That should have been writ in vellum,
In letters of shining gold.

'Twas told by an old conductor,
Who, many a fearful mile,
Has guided his iron charger,
Trusting in God the while.

One night, 'twas cold and stormy,
The drifts were mountain high,
And the watchman cried, "Gold help us"
As the train went thundering by.

I watched with eager glance,
The lights along the line;
For an hundred precious souls that night
I answered for with mine.

At length, through the inky darkness,
There rose a signal high,
And—"danger ahead—seemed written
In flames upon the sky.

We quenched the glowing furnace—
We checked the flying car,
And stopped where the red blaze lighted
The white hilltops afar.

But where was the danger threatened?
Where lurked the monster death?
A low "thank God, I've saved you,"
Came forth with choking breath.

And before me stood a woman—
Old, and thinly clad,
And around her hovered children,
Three little faces sad.

They heeded not the pelting
Of sleet and storm, O! No—
For three long hours they'd waited
My coming through the snow.

With shuddering hands they pointed
To the darkness just ahead—
Our lips grew pale and ashy;
Our hearts were filled with dread.

O! sure Death's hand had dug it,
That great wide yawning grave,
And but for the fiery signal—
Great God Whose hand could save!

Then we spoke to the woman softly,
While slowly came our breath;
Why stand you here in the darkness
To show us the tracks of death?

Who brought the mighty faggots
To rear this blazing pile?
Who lighted the blaze? and wherefore,
He tarries away the while?

O! sir, said the woman meekly—
In the midst of her falling tears;
I remember a kindness done me,
You've forgotten it for years.

My little children gathered
The berries on the plain,
And walked to town to sell them
And then walked home again.

And many a time you've brought them
All along the weary way.
And with kindly words you cheered them
And would never take your pay.

So when this storm was raging,
And had washed the track away,
I remembered all your kindness
And to save you I did pray.

I fired the pile that warned you—
By other hands 'twas reared—
My cabin was the beacon
Thank God your life is spared.

Down in the snow beside her
Was bent full many a knee,
And the heads were all uncovered,
But none of us could see.

Our eyes were running over
With quick, hot, gushing tears;
And great, hard hearts were praying
That had not prayed for year.

But then we all bethought us
That tears nor even prayers,
Would give these shivering children
The home that once was theirs.

So we passed around a basket
And 'twas filled with yellow gold;
And we prayed that God would bless her
A thousand, thousand fold.

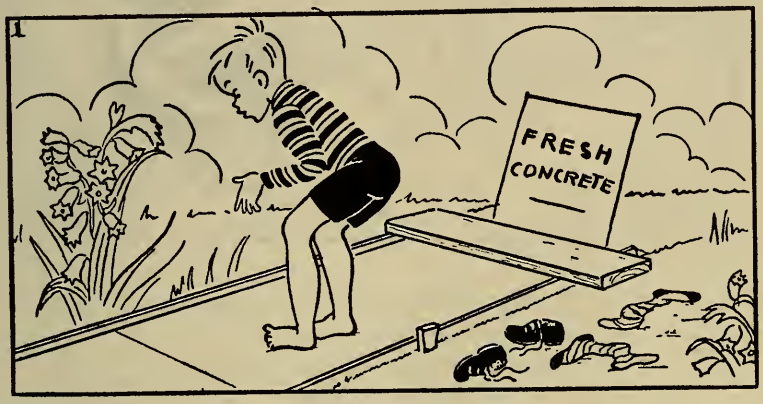
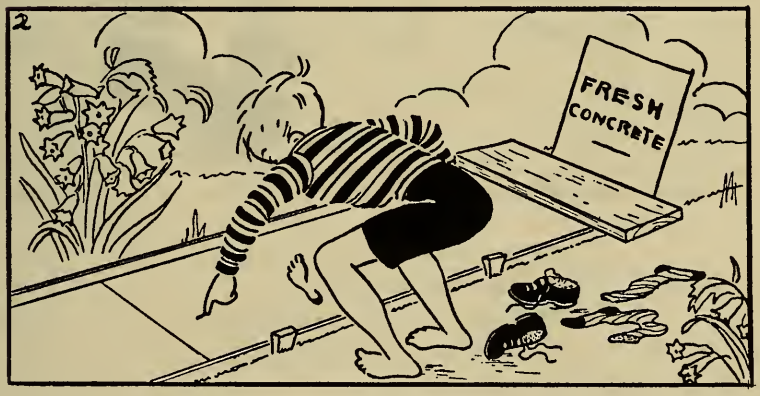
CUDDLES AND TUCKIE.

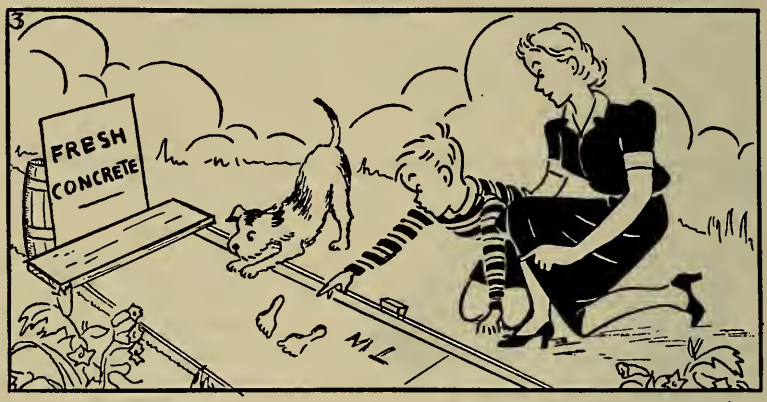
By Mrs. Winthrop Williams.



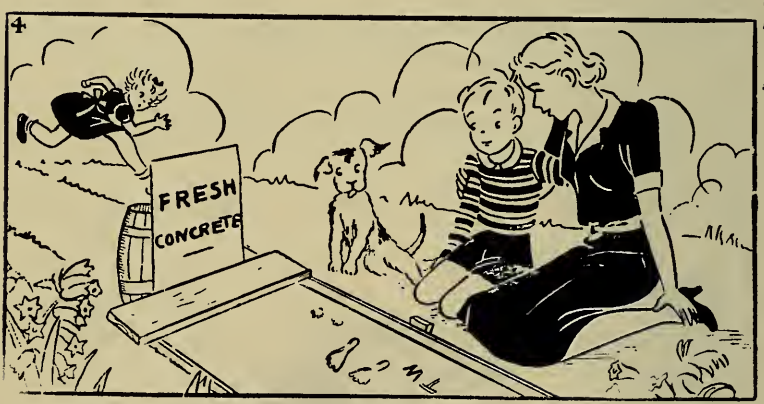
Today, upon my garden walk,
Where fresh cement was laid,
You pressed your little heels and toes
And barefoot prints were made.



Beside this funny pair of feet,
With small and sturdy hand,
You wrote your own initials as
You write them in the sand.



Though you'll be growing up, my dear,
And leaving me some day,
These little footprints on the walk
Can never run away.



I'll keep them here forever, in
This 'special place, apart
Just like the little footprints you
Have left upon my heart.

S.4.1.3.9.1. Laura Ellet Lucky, 1874-1918, and William L. Duncan, 1827-1907. W. L. Duncan was born in Washington College, Maryland, where his father was professor of Belles Lettres. From Capt. Duncan's nephew, Augustin Duncan, 1873- son of J. C. Duncan and brother of the famous dancer, who in May, 1946, was publicized in "Parade" as the "Gallant Old Trouper" for his work in "The Lute Song" on Broadway, we learn more about Capt. Duncan. The "L" in Capt. Duncan's name stood for Lorenzo, after Lorenzo Da Ponta, the husband of his mother's sister, who was the son of Lorenza Da Ponte, Mozart's librettist for "Don Giovanni," "Cosi Fan Tutte" and "The Marriage of Figaro", etc. Lorenzo Da Ponte, 1749-1838, was an Italian poet, librettist and one of the pioneers in spreading Italian culture in these United States. He wrote librettos of some of Mozart's operas. In 1805 after a varied career in Italy, Vienna, Dresden and London, he came to New York. Many volumes of biography tell his life's story in detail. Capt. Duncan was the youngest captain in the U. S. Army of his time. He captured Santa Anna's wooden leg and carried it to headquarters.

W. L. Duncan entered California 20 Sept. 1849. Laura taught at Laurel Hill, San Mateo, and married Capt. Duncan, 1869. He died at Pioneers Club not stock exchange. 2nd Lt. III Vol. known as Co. B. of 4th III in Mexican War. Lt. Duncan distinguished himself. Members of the society of California Pioneers and secretary 1862-63; in 1900 he became the marshal and continued until 1907.

S.4.1.4. Rev. Josiah A. Scarritt, 1790-1865, according to the records of the Methodist cemetery, Center Sandwich, N. H., was born on 16 December and died 12 November. He is listed in one of the books published annually by the Sandwich Historical Society: "Rev. Josiah A. Scarritt, Methodist Church, 1814." (year he was first licensed to preach.) His home built in 1806 is still standing.
Before the death of his wife in Warrensburgh, N. Y., in 1843, his sixth, seventh, and eighth children were born. Two, Harriett and Julia, are buried in the Methodist cemetery in Center Sandwich, as he was. His second wife, after his death, married John Crosby. In 1904 Sanford Scarritt, in his diary said she was living in Lisbon, N. H. Her son had the Rev. J. A. Scarritt bible.
The official record of the Zion Herald, December, 1865, shows that Rev. Scarritt served as follows: New England Conference, 1815; Conway, N. H., 1815; Sandwich, 1816:

Stansstead, C. E., 1817; Danville, Vt., 1818; Craftsburg, 1819; Portsmouth-landoff, 1820-1821; Weathersfield, 1822; and Portland, Me., 1823.

From the diary of Rev. Josiah A. Scarritt, loaned by his granddaughter, Miss Emily F. Scarritt, 1871- of Orange, California, through the cooperation of Mrs. C. W. Hippard. "24 June, 1823: Arrived Portland, Me., after 150 mile trip." Diary tells in detail of his labors there, his study of a course in English grammer, and the camp meetings, and his thoughts as he lived through his weekly program of serving the little church and its Yankee members.

"Mid-November, 1823: Received a letter from my brother-in-law, informing me that my father was dangerously ill. Friday, 15 November, 1823: I wrote a letter to my father. I feel much on his account, but see no way at present to help him unless I can do it by prayers. I should be glad to visit him but cannot leave my charge.

"15 December, 1823: Received letter from my sister, Lovinia (1801-1863) informing me that my father is still living, but quite feeble and wished me to come home and live with him, while he continued. Sister Lucy Moore (1781-1842) lived 20 miles away from the home place, Rev. Isaac (1783-1861) and Nathan (1788-1847) older brothers, had gone to Illinois in 1818 and 1820, brother Jeremiah died in 1818.)

"5 January, 1824: Put up my things with the intention of starting journey to visit my parents; but just as I was about ready to set off, I heard that my brother-in-law, R. Moore (-1865) was coming to market with produce for my father, the present week. This being the case, I thought it best to await his arrival. 10 January, 1824: Last evening I learned my brother-in-law had gone the other way to market; I think it best therefore, to set off this morning, to visit my parents. After I got in readiness to start, my horse started from the door and ran with the sleigh, with my trunk therein. He ran with great rapidity, turning several corners, trapping several persons; until at length getting out of wind and slackening his pace, he was taken up. No persons were hurt, nothing injured. I travelled as far as Baldwin. (Runaway horse caused the death of his son, Charles, later in 1882.)

"11 January, 1824: Tedious snowstorm. I stayed at Baldwin the next day . . . found travelling hard in consequence of the late snow. Put up the night in Conway. 13 January, 1824: Called at Bartlett, as I passed through. Put up the night at the tavern. 14 January, 1824: The next day reached Phineas Bosbrooks', I had intended to go as far as Bethlehem, but the travelling was heavy, my horse weary, the weather tedious and the people kind.

"15 January, 1824: I arrived once more in safety at my father's. Found him quite feeble and infirm, but measurably comfortable. My mother and sisters were in usual health. 18 January, 1824: My parents wish me to locate and live with them as my father is unable to attend to business and has no one suitable to manage his concerns. Brother Moore made us a visit, while I was home, and offered to let his son (probably Harry, the oldest, although only 11) work for us for one year provided I came home, on terms I thought were reasonable . . . as he lived more than 20 miles off, and wishing me to give him an answer, before he returned, we agreed on 1 April.

"22 January, 1824: Took leave of my parents once more. Held meeting in the Methodist meeting house, in the east part of Lyman, in the evening. 23 January, 1824: Preached in the evening at Lansdoff. 25 January, 1824: Preached in Concord. 26 January, 1824: Left Concord for Portland. Preached at Bartlett on Tuesday, 27th. Wednesday evening at Brownsfield. Saturday 31st, arrived Portland in good health, having been absent just three weeks.

"9 April, 1824: Arrived at father's house. I now labored on week days, and preached on the Sabbath. November, 1824: I have lately received a letter from brother Isaac (1783-1861) who resides in Illinois, it is with gratitude to God, I learn that he and his family, brother Nathan (1788-1847) and his, with exception of his youngest child, were well; and that God was in some measure proving his spirit in that region and thus raising up a people for himself in the western wilds of America.

"15 May, 1825: Preached in Lyman, east side of the mountain. 11 September, 1825: My sister, Lovinia, attended camp meeting with me at Lansdoff (Rev. Josiah also preached there). I would here remark I commenced correspondence with sister Cynthia Dow (1804-1843) last winter on the subject of matrimony . . . I was induced to take this step for several reasons, among which were the following: 1st in my present situation, I need a wife. 2nd I believe Providence has placed me in my present situation (farming instead of preaching—particularly circuit preaching which greatly appealed to him) and I know not when I shall be released therefrom. 3rd Should I ever see it my duty to travel, perhaps I might be as useful as a married man, as in the single state, provided I have a suitable companion. In this I believe sister C. D. would make me such a one. We corresponded familiarly by letter until a short time previous to the camp meeting, when my correspondent signified a wish to know more definitely my views concerning its issue, as here-to-fore, it had been a subject of suspense . . . we were married 29 December, 1825, in Bath. In 1827 he was serving in Winchester village.

"1 April, 1827: My brother-in-law, R. R. Moore (-1865) came onto my father's farm, in order to carry it on for three years, and to take care of my parents. By this arrangement I think I shall be able to travel again. 9 April, 1827: It is now three years since I left travelling . . . and I prepare to travel again.

Cynthia Dow Scarritt was born before they left that farm. The Bishop of Winehister appointed Rev. Scarritt in 1827. They went to Unity in 1828, and J. A. Scarritt, Jr., was born that year in Marlow. They went to Danville in 1829 and Erasmus was born in 1830, when Rev. Josiah was at Barre, Vt. They were stationed at Chelsea in 1831. Charles was born in Walden in 1833. They were in the Danville district 1832-33-34-35. George F. was born in Danville, Vt., in 1836. Northfield, 1836; E. Williamstown, 1837, Bethel 1838-39, where Harriett was born. Inactive for four years, they lived during this time in Warrensburg, N. Y. (Later Erasmus and George F. lived at Baker's Mill and Northcreek which are near Warrensburg and Erasmus' wife and daughter still lived in nearby Hudson Falls and Francis H. Scarritt in Northcreek in 1946) Julia and Mary Ellen, twins were born in Warrensburg in 1841, and Cynthia Dow Scarritt died there in 1843. Rev. Josiah moved back to Sandwich in 1844. Tamsworth 1845; but he married Phebe Burley in Sandwich in 1845. To West Plymouth 1846-47; Warren 1848-49; Grantham 1850-51; Henninker in 1852. See letter from brother Isaac, 1850, on page 103. Cynthia Dow was daughter of Caleb and Jane Dow. On March 19, 1853, Josiah purchased a farm in Sandwich for $623.17. In 1858 Erasmus married Mrs. E. A. Shaw. "November 22, 1865: Charles Burley's son came to take care of the farm," wrote Phebe Scarritt in a letter to the children about the death of their father. Phebe Burley Scarritt, widow of Josiah was Phebe French, she married first Nathaniel Burley. After the death of Rev. Josiah she married John Crosby of North Bridgewater, Mass. Phoebe was daughter of proprietor's clerk at Sandwich.

S.4.1.4.1. Josiah Atkins Scarritt, Jr., died in 1903. His wife in 1894.

S.4.1.4.1.1. Susie Scarritt died in 1942, aged 75 years, in Orange, Calif.

S.4.1.4.1.1.1. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hippard, 1902- live in a new home in Etiwanda, California. Frances was a Kappa Alpha Theta at UCLA and USC, graduating from the latter in 1925. Her husband was a Theta Delta Chi and president of a trade fraternity at UC, Berkeley. After graduation in 1925, he was for seven years a set decorator in Hollywood. During the war he was a tool planner at Douglas Aircraft,

Long Beach. He has now returned to his business as furniture salesman and decorater Santa Ana, Calif.

S.4.1.4.1.1.1.1. Charles Francis Hippard (adopted) 1947-

S.4.1.4.1.2. Emily F. Scarritt, 1871- lives in a new home in Etiwanda, Calif., and has been a wonderful help with this record. She writes: "I had a wonderful time in Glen Falls (N. Y.) when I was a little girl, and nearly ended my young life, stepping backward off the top of a stage coach. I also remember very well riding on the driver's seat of the stage coach and four going to Saratoga Springs, 'Ernie' as we called him (son of Erasmus, who had been in the stage and livery business, and who with his brother and nephew, ran a stage) and I didn't get on any too well together as is the manner of spoiled children."

S.4.1.4.2. Erasmus B. Scarritt, 1830-1899, married twice, once to Mrs. E. A. Shaw in N. Y. C. in 1858, and later to Sarah Ann Sanderson, 1847-1947, who had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Case, at 10½ Liberty Place, Hudson Falls, N. Y. The Adjutant General's record shows that he served from 3 Sept. 1862, to 30 Jan. 1864, as regimental quartermaster, 113th Ohio Infantry. In 1865 his brother, Josiah, wrote from Columbus, Ohio: "I have just heard of the death of our father, letter of the 12th from Sandwich written by Lizzie Ambrose to George (George F. was in Columbus, Ohio, evidently as his son, George E. was born there in 1865). They had just heard of it at the Center. I hope son is doing well, we are all anxious to hear." At that time Erasmus was probably living near Schuylerville, N. Y. Erasmus, who was known as "R. B. "and had a government star mail route under those initials, according to the U. S. Employees register listings for N. Y., settled near North Creek and was in the stage and livery business. In the early 1880's he and his brother, George F., started a stage line to Blue Mountain Lake. Charles told his son, about meeting Erasmus when enroute to New Hampshire in 1882, they didn't speak as there was some family misunderstanding about providing for the younger sisters in the early days. The veterans administration reports that Erasmus was a Lt. and died in Chester Township, Ny Y. in 1899.

Miss Emily Scarritt wrote 24 April, 1946: "For many years uncle Erasmus lived near Glen Falls, N. Y., and we visited him there, but I do not know what his later address might have been. Father received a letter from him telling of the second marriage, and later the birth of a daughter, Estella. I also remember Father receiving a letter telling of his death, but do not know the date. So far as I know he had only two children, Ernest, born about 1871, and Estella, much younger."

Mrs. Sarah Anne Scarritt, who would have observed her 100th birthday on 3 May 1947, had she lived, died 19 Jan. 1947. Taken to Wisconsin as a child, she and her sister were adopted by Judge Ezra Wheeler, of that State, who at the time of the Civil War represented Wisconsin in Congress.

During most of the Civil War period Judge Wheeler and his family lived in Washington, D. C., where Mrs. Scarritt on numerous occasions saw President Lincoln. With the exception of Mrs. Scarritt, who remained at home, Judge Wheeler and family were at the Ford theatre when Lincoln was assassinated.

Following Lt. Scarritt's death at North Creek, Mrs. Scarritt came to Sandy Hill, later Glen Falls, where she resided except for about a year and a half around 1903, when she and her daughter lived in Seattle, Washington.

Nephews and a niece surviving Mrs. Scarritt, in addition to her daughter, were: Ralph and Charles Scarritt, of Illinois, and Miss Emily F. Scarritt, of Orange, California. Francis Scarritt, of North Creek, N. Y., son of another nephew, attended the funeral.

S.4.1.4.2.1. Ernest J. Scarritt, 1871-1911, died in Carthage, N. Y. The official transcript shows that he was a clerk and born at Schuylersville, N. Y. His mother was

Lou McNish Frenuser. Earl Williams, his brother-in-law, 514 Francis St., Carthage, N. Y., writes as follows:

"Ernest ('Kid' as he was called) married my only sister, Maude Pearl Williams, 1880-1939, in 1899 at my home in Colossee, N. Y. I know his mother was Margaret Louise McNish, for Kid (Ernest) asked us to name our second daughter Margaret (Olga) after his mother. We did know he had a sister, Estella. He first came to Old Forge and Thendara to work at Fulton Chain, only a short time before we met him. It was 1906 or 07 that he and my sister came to Carthage. Kid has no other relatives that we know of. He is buried in Carthage. Fulton Chain is two miles from Old Forge, and now called Thendara. These are located in the town of Webb, Herkimer Co., about 70 miles from Utica."

Her maternal grandmother was Florinda Straight, and maternal grandfather Christopher Sanderson, born in England. Previous to her marriage, Estella taught school and did some secretarial work as she had a business college education. She is now attendance supervisor for the public and parochial schools of the village and also the county district in Washington Co., Town of Kingsbury. She lives at 10½ Liberty Pl., Hudson Falls, N. Y.

S.4.1.4.3 Mary Ellen Scarritt, 1841-1894, one of the twins born in Warrensburg, N. Y., was listed in the 1938 Volume as S.4.1.4.3. Helen Scarritt. She adopted the name of Helen after 1857, married Ezra Twitchell Shedd, or Aurora, Ill., and lived in Chicago for many years. She died in Batavia, Ill., and was buried in Oakwood cemetery, Chicago. She was known to the family as "Aunt Nellie."

S.4.1.4.4. Cynthia Dow Scarritt, 1827- was the oldest child of Rev. Josiah. The History of Windham, N. H., 1719-1883, by L. A. Morrison, gives a great deal of history about the Dow family. (Rev. Josiah's wife was Cynthia Dow) "Rev. Josiah and Cynthia Dow Scarritt and eight children are mentioned briefly. Cynthia Dow Scarritt attended a private school, conducted by her uncle, Edward Dean Dow, in Plainsfield, N. J., and thus lost touch with her seven younger brothers and sisters. She married Dr. R. P. Little and moved to Columbus, Ohio. She was only 16 when her mother died.

In 1939 he was elected a member of the city commission of Middletown, the youngest man to be so elected. He served three years before going on duty as an officer in the Army of the United States. At the time he left for service he was chairman of the City Commission, president of the Board of Health, commander of the Middletown unit, U. S. Citizens' Defense Corps, chairman of the Middletown Defense Council, a member of the Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals, as well as being active in other civic affairs. The Middletown Unit, CDC, received the award of merit from Major General U. S. Grant on the army hour early in 1943. Major Pearson went on active duty in December, 1942, as a 1st Lt. He served on the staff of General Spiller, AAATC, Camp Stewart, Ga., as physical training officer and asst. airborne officer for nine months after graduating from the Defense Officers Course in January, 1943. He then graduated from the Specialists Officers course at Fort Custer, and the Civil Affairs Training School, Northwestern University. Going to England in February, 1943, he attended the school at Shrivenham, England. He wears 4 battle stars, the bronze star medal, the victory ribbon, occupation ribbon, American and European Theater ribbons. Serving in the ETO with G-5 Section, 3rd Army and XII Corps, he spent all of his time on the continent with the 80th Infantry Division. While with the 80th he was in France, Luxemborg, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Austria. He was with the two battalions of the 318th that accompanied the 4th Armored Division in making a corridor into Bastogne at the time of the Battle of the Bulge, for the relief of the 101st Airborne in December, 1944. Altho a staff officer he commanded Task Force Pearson in Luxemborg, and later in Austria again commanding Task Force Pearson, he captured $500,000,000 of Nazi loot and a number of important Nazis including Ernest Kaltenbrunner and Norman Baillie-Stewart (known as the "officer in the tower"). The loot captured at Alt Aussee represented the largest and most important single cache seized by the Americans. Major Pearson, who was promoted during the Battle of France, and after his unit had captured Argentan, also took General-Major Fabrinnka as his personal prisoner and had his painting done in oil by the famous Polish artist Czedekowski. Among the more notable persons he rescued was Bela Fabian, former president of the Hungarian democrats, who was in the camp at Ohrdruf, near Gotha. All during the war Major Pearson had a French corporal detailed with him and has since the end of the war received many letters from prominent Europeans whom he met during the conflict. Following V-E Day, Major Pearson commanded the 928th FA Bn., of the 103rd, then commanded by General McAuliffe of the famous retort "Nuts." On his return to the states Major Pearson spent some time in Fort Bliss, Texas, as an Asst. S-3, AARTC, as asst. Executive Hq 11th AART Group, and as asst Chief of the Automatic Weapons Computing section of the Flak Analysis Test Firing Project. He graduated in April, 1946, as a member of the first class in Public Relations from the Army Information School, Carlisle Barracks. Following that he was ordered to the Hq, Replacement and School Command, Fort Bragg, where he organized and headed the new Information Section. With the disbanding of that important headquarters he was ordered to Washington, where he is now, as Chief, Information Office, a new section of National Guard Bureau, Department of the Army Special Staff. Major Pearson is a member of Theta Chi, Chapter No. 87, R. A. M., Whitehorse Chapter No. 235 National Sojourners, formed in England, and the American Legion, Post 218, Middletown, Ohio. Major and Mrs. Pearson live at 400 S. Cherry St., Falls Church, Va. Commissioned a Lt. Col Inf.-Res. 19 May 1947. Major Pearson was appointed a Major, Regular Army, October 1947.

S.4.1.4.6. George Francis Scarritt, 1836-1908, and his wife, Lucy Ambrose, 1836- were married in Center Sandwich, N. H., in 1860. They and their infant son, Lester, are buried in the Baptist cemetery, Center Sandwich. "Uncle George Scarritt, father's brother, did visit Columbus, Ohio, where his son, George Erasmus, was born. George E. was (later) a tall, gangling boy, in his early teens—so far as I know he was the only child. He, Uncle George, outlived father, (J. A., Jr.) by a year or two." Miss Emily F. Scarritt, 24 April, 1946. George farmed in Bemiss Heights, near Schuylerville, N. Y., and came to North Creek, N. Y., in the early 1880's. With his brother, Erasmus (known as R. B.) who was in the livery and stage business, he started a stage run to Blue Mountain Lake. In the latter part of the 1880's George F. settled on a farm with his son, George E., near Baker's Mills, N. Y., until his health broke in 1903-05 and he then lived with his son until 1908.

S.4.1.4.6.1. George L. Scarritt, 1860-
S.4.1.4.6.2. Lester Scarritt, 1861-1862 (George L. and Lester thought to be one and the same.)
S.4.1.4.6.3. George E. Scarritt, 1865-1943, was born in Columbus, Ohio, and often referred to himself as a "Buckeye." He married in 1893, Mahala E. Manchester, born near Lake George, N. Y. George E. "was sent into the mountains of New York early in the 1880's to die of TB" as he put it, but he recovered. He drove for a time on the coach line operated by his father and uncle. About the time his son, Francis, was born, he hired out to the Raquette Lake Transportation Co., as pilot and engineer, then as engineer on a small train for the same company, which they were running for 5/8 of a mile along the Marion river, which they could not navigate with the steamboats. In the fall of 1914 he moved to an 18-acre place owned by his wife. In the fall of 1916 they purchased the Rocky Slope Farm, near Northcreek, N. Y., where his son, Francis H., now lives. They operated as George E. Scarritt & Son. In 1920, with Francis agreeing to help, George bought a small milk route from a neighbor. This was into Northcreek and Francis operated it until 1942, when George's health was so bad and help so hard to get that the route was given up. George E. was known as "Rassie."
S.4.1.4.6.3.1. Ralph Scarritt, 1896-1898.
S.4.1.4.6.3.2. Madelene Scarritt, 1902-1902.
S.4.1.4.6.3.3. Francis H. Scarritt, 1895- married in 1921, Jennie Mae West, 1899-
A very serious and quite religious man, he worked away from home for about three years after 1942. Since that time he has farmed on a small scale and cut pulpwood for sale. Francis now lives about 3 miles from North Creek, about 41 miles from Hudson Falls. He was born in Olmsteadville, N. Y. His address is RFD, North Creek, N. Y.
S.4.1.4.6.3.3.1. Sylvia Scarritt, 1923- married in 1946, Albert W. Stevens, of Rensselear, N. Y. She and her sister are both graduates of Albany Business College.
S.4.1.4.6.3.3.2. Vera Scarritt, 1924- is employed by the Barton Mines Corp., in North Creek, N. Y.
S.4.1.4.7. Harriett Amelia Scarritt, 1838-1858, is buried in Center Sandwich, N. H. On 26 March, 1857, Harriett wrote her brother, J. A. Scarritt, who was then teaching in Columbus, Ohio.
"I have been teaching the past season, had excellent success . . . engaged for the same school for the summer. Caught cold last spring . . . not at home this spring, staying with a friend at the 'Tower Corner'. Ellen Burley visits us as soon as the ground settles and brings her little boy with her. She has named him Charley.
"Mrs. White started for the west Monday. She went to see Laura. Mary spent the winter in Watertown (Ernest, nephew of Harriett died at Carthage, N. Y., near Watertown in 1913.) Charles Henri is the only one of the family here in Sandwich. He taught school this winter. I presume that you know that Sue (S.4.1.2.2.2.) is married, lives in Illinois and has a son. George told me to say lots of good things for him."
21 April, 1857, Harriett wrote to her brother, Charles, in Columbus, Ohio, "Staying at the Daniel Parrots. Mrs. Parrot is a niece of mothers. If I am not entirely well by June, the time for my school to commence, I shall let sister Ellen take my school. $9.00 a month is quite good for this place. Cynthia wrote me a few weeks since, that she would like to come to either Northfield or Newbury, Vt., and take boarders and have the twins and myself come and board with her, she paying all the expenses of our education, until we become sufficiently educated to assist her in teaching a boarding school. (Cynthia was her sister, whose husband died in 1856. Rev. Josiah, the father, objected to this arrangement.)
"I can never live out there (with her father) out of the way of everything pleasant there is. There is not one person at North Sandwich, but I dislike and would not be seen with one of them. Have not seen George (brother, then 21) very recently. I presume he is farming. He is tall, a little more than six feet, hair light, yet not very pretty, but he is good, he seems much more agreeable to me than he used to. Ellen, why I don't think you would know her, she has grown so, she is a good scholar, thorough, much better than Emma. Emma is a little larger than I am, and is a real 'old maid.' She is much like father's sister, Lovinia, who spent the winter with us a year ago." Hattie.

S.4.1.4.8. Julia Emma Scarritt, 1841-1861, is buried in Center Sandwich, N. H. For twin see S.4.1.4.3.

S.4.2.3. James A. Scarritt, Jr., 1799-1870, married Polly Wooldridge, born near Poughkeepsie, N. Y. She was the mother of five children and four of them were living in 1888. James was but a boy when his parents moved to Smyrna, in what his son called the "wilds of Chenango Co." in 1806. Here he developed into manhood. While he was still a lad he commenced working in a grist mill in Smyrna, the management of which he soon learned to perfection, and later put up a saw and grist mill of his own, in the same town, which he conducted for many years. He subsequently traded his mill property for a farm, in the vicinity, upon which he took residence and died in Dec. 1870. Polly Wooldridge died in 1862. James later married Salome Beecher Shaw, a widow, grandniece of Henry Ward Beecher. It is said that his recond wife made life very uncomfortable for him. He testified in 1853, that he was the son of James, the Revolutionary soldier. S.4.2.3. was listed incorrectly in Volume I as James Scarritt, 1798- who married Julia Johnson This James is listed on page 164.

Infantry in the Civil War. As a result of imprisonment in Andersonville and Libby, he became thin through starvation and never regained his health. George had a nice farm on Symrna hill, but as land prices advanced, after the Civil War, he became enthusiastic and overbought, losing everything in the slump later. He married Harriet Miranda Roe (Rowe) 1847-1883, who was weak and feeble, when the family was staying with the Willcox family in Earlville, N. Y., before going west. George and his family took up land near Milltown, S. D. (then Dakota Territory) but later moved to Dakota City—now Parkston—to be nearer a school. When they first settled there, they had to haul lumber from Yankton, 80 miles away, for their sod house. He took up a government tract and made good. Mrs. Scarritt, a victim of T. B., died in childbirth in 1883, and was buried in the snow until spring.

He was one of the well-known editors and proprietors of the Hudson Post, a popular news sheet, for which he had built up a large circulation and patronage. He was well-read and well-informed, according to the biographers of that day, and "generally succeeds in what he undertakes." James M. was first with the Democratic Reflector, later the Hamilton Republican. In 1855, he started the Sherburne, N. Y. Transcript (next door to Smyrna). After two years he farmed for awhile before becoming foreman of the Rural American in Clinton, N. Y. In 1861, with a partner he started the Mexico, N. Y. Independent. After 5 years in Mexico, he became the editor of the Clyde Times, which was reflecting the Democratic party. He made it an arm of the Republican party. He retired for a time in 1871, and in March, 1872, went to Michigan and purchased the Hudson Post. This he made into a very fine paper. In 1854, in Sherburne, James M. married Clarissa Almeda Tackabery, 1834- (The above from the History of Lenawee Co., Mich., 1888.) From the "Old Town Meeting" Smyrna, 1905, we have: "The first paper was gotten out in 1858, and named the 'New Year's Call', but only one copy, containing mostly poetry, was printed. The publisher was James M. Scarritt of the Sherburne Transcript, who afterwards became somewhat noted as an editor and publisher—remaining (in Hudson) until his death a few years ago. James M. had a brother, Nelson J., another brother, George, a longtime resident, moved to South Dakota and died there in 1901. The family was long and favorably known in Smyrna." Miscellany

In 1734, Thomas Skerrett, Irish merchant, died in London. In 1738, Mary "Molly" Skerrett married Sir Robert Walpole, and died within a few months, in the same year. She was the daughter of Thomas, who died in 1734. "Molly" was Sir Robert's mistress before 1728 and had two daughters. She was a woman of wit and charm, with a fortune of £30,000. She was a friend of Lady Mary Wortley Montague and the original "Polly" of the Beggers Opera and "Phyrne" of Alexander Pope. One of her daughters lived to become Lady Mary Walpole, after her mother's marriage.

Mrs. Jane E. Pratt, Library Monroe (N. H.) Free Public Library, writes: "When I was young, I lived on a farm in the north part of Monroe, and the house faced the Scarritt mountain, which I have climbed many times. . . . I used to wonder how the mountain got its name. . . . I am going to make a little sketch of the location of the farm where the Scarritts settled, so if you come to Monroe you can locate it. It is now grown up and I haven't been there for years, but there must be a cellar hole, for the old house was standing as late as 1901, altho no one lived in it from the time I can remember (1893). Nathan Scarritt represented the town of Lyman in 1811.

"The sketch shows that the range of Gardner mountains divides the towns of Lyman and Monroe. Road No. 11½ (Child's Gazette of Grafton Co.) was probably two miles long. Since the New England Power Co., has owned so much property in the town the buildings where we lived have been taken down and as those buildings were the last ones left on the road the town voted to discard the road a few years ago. Monroe was a part of Lyman until 1854 and was called North Lyman. Road 11½ ran from the John Hall farm on the Connecticut river near the N. E. Power Co. dam to Lyman. The Frank Paddleford was left (north) of the crossing, as you went east toward Lyman, from the river, with the main road from Woodsville to Littleton, through Monroe and the Curtis Paddleford farm on the right (south). The old mill house stood at the intersection. The Scarritt house was on the north side of road, 11½, about halfway from the old mill house to Lyman. The Scarritt mountain was northeast of the house and Signal mountain southeast."

In 1913, John McKendree Springer (pages 17-110) designated his library to be the foundation, or nucleus, of the Livingstone Memorial Library. The Livingstone Memorial Library is now housed in Mr. Springer's home in Mulungwishi, via Elisabethville, Belgian Congo, Africa, which is Livingstone country. This is the general locality toward which the face of that undaunted missionary explorer was set, when on 4 May 1873, on his knees, in a grass shack in what is now Northern Rhodisia, near Chitambo's village, 250 miles southeast of Mulungwishi, when he passed into eternity. Mr. Livingstone was born in 1913. Mrs. Springer holds the record of all Europeans now in the Colony as the earliest arrival in the Congo, arriving there in 1890 at the age of 22. Rev. C. O. Springer (pages 19-111) nephew of Bishop Springer above, was the grandson of ..... Bishop who spent 40 years as a missionary in Japan. (See fifth paragraph on page 11, Volume I.)
